SUPPLEMENTAL STATEMENT WITH REFERENCE TO JUNE 30, 1986.

1- Fairfax Advertising Agency

Fairfax used to be the advertising agency for the South African Tourism Board and during the course of the year purchased advertising on behalf of the Board. The amount refunded was for payment of such advertising.

2- Ms. S. Mentos

Ms. Mentos is a lecturer specializing in travelogues. She visited South Africa in order to acquaint herself with the travel products available to lecture to select groups of Travel Agents in the Westchester, New York and Long Island areas during March of 1986.

3- Steven B. Stevens

Mr Stevens acted as a Public Relations Consultant and film producer on behalf of this Board and the South African Airways. We engaged his services at a monthly fee and paid an additional amount for all expenditures incurred for either travelling or productions on our behalf. In addition to producing a television film in South Africa of approx. 22 minutes entitled "The Other South Africa", Mr Stevens was also responsible for producing a brochure on South Africa, specializing in the religious travel market. The amount paid to Mr Stevens was to cover the expenditures incurred during the production of the video as well as the brochure that he produced on our behalf.

4- Peregrine Corporations

This Board purchased audio cassettes entitled "Time out for Realism" to be used as free giveaways to members of the press and select audiences. This cassette was produced by an independent company and because of their quality it was decided that these should be purchased for distribution to the media and other opinion leaders.

5- Abercrombie and Kent

This Board, in conjunction with Abercrombie & Kent and African Travel engaged the services of Mr David Schaffer -- at the time an employee of Abercrombie & Kent -- and an excellent lecturer, to instruct Travel Agents on travelling to South Africa, Botswana and Zimbabwe. During the time that Mr Schaffer was in our service he conducted 13 lectures country-wide in the United States lecturing predominantly to Travel Agents in select Metropolitan areas.

SUPPLEMENTAL STATEMENT WITH REFERENCE TO JUNE 30, 1986 (CONTINUED).

6- IPM, Inc.

This payment was made to IPM, currently acting as Marketing Consultants and Direct Mail Advertising specialists on behalf of this Board.

IPM conducted extensively a direct marketing campaign and the amount paid to this agency was specifically to cover costs incurred in the Direct Mail Campaign.

7- A Luckhoff

Mr Luckhoff, a student from South Africa who furthered his studies in Portland, Oregon, acted on behalf of this Board as a guest lecturer specializing in religious and church groups. We agreed to pay him a fee for each lecture he conducted. The amount paid was part of the fee to Mr Luckhoff.
